IEEE Policy

- Extended/enhanced conference contributions of longer lasting value can be submitted to TNS
- The content of the articles for TNS publication must meet the level of scrutiny by scientific review, and publication is not guaranteed for the TNS submission; please note that not all conference topics are covered by the scope of the journal, to be checked carefully before submission
- Only papers that contain sufficient additional information compared to contributions to the conference proceedings can be considered for publication in IEEE TNS:
 - as a general guideline, more than half of the submitted manuscript should represent new material;
 - related previous works (including the proceeding paper, if applicable) should be cited and the elements of novelty should be clearly indicated;
 - if you previously submit to the conference proceedings, it is requested that you attach copy of your paper to the TNS paper submission
- More information available on the conference web-site
- In case of doubts please don't hesitate to contact me
